SHIPMENT LABELING

All goods must be packed in such a way as to protect them from physical impact during transport. Fragile goods and liquids must be packed in boxes filled with foam and marked accordingly. If the packaging does not meet the standard parameters, DB Schenker is not responsible for the timely delivery and storage of the consignments. A consignment may not be accepted for transportation if it is not marked, its packaging raises doubts about the preservation of the consignment during transportation. Previously used boxes with misleading markings will not be accepted for transportation. Each transport unit must be marked. The following must be indicated on the label: the full address of the consignee, including the postal code and the building number; full consignor's address and contact telephone number; special instructions (eg other EpII, etc. may be stacked on this package). If the cargo is not properly marked, SIA Schenker performs marking at the customer's expense.
